

Math 570 - Concept Paper 1

Due Monday, February 13, 2006

Think about the following question: “Why do people do mathematics?” Using what we have learned about the Babylonians and the early Greeks, as well as your own experience with mathematics, write a 500-1000 word paper answering this question. You are welcome to use outside sources (provided they are cited properly) but it is not required. Your paper will be graded according to the rubric on the opposite side of this page.
